What is ALLBEBET (ALB) token?

ALB token is an internal unit of account of the ALLBEBET infrastructure released on the Ethereum blockchain platform of the ERC20 standard. It is fully compatible with most Ether wallets and, in addition, can be stored and used in own company products. ALB token usage:

- Opportunity to place bets within the platform Allbebet.bet
- "Marketplace" section provides an opportunity to buy clubs, players and sports partners goods for the ALB token within the Allbebet.bet platform.
- Opportunity to use the ALB token in other company services: Allbebet.Analytics and Allbebet.news.
- Opportunity of technical collaboration with other gambling sites that will allow partial or complete integration of the token ALB into their infrastructure.

ALB can be converted into any currency pair supported by the platform in the User profile of each platform.

Where can I store ALB tokens?

At the beginning we recommend to store ALB tokens in the User profile of the ALLBEBET platform.

Will ALB token be traded on the exchange?

Yes, we are planning our project token listing on crypto-exchanges, but under the terms and established practice between market and the project, this information is not revealed before official listing confirmation by the market. To avoid misleading of users concerning early event announcement and not reached agreement due to certain circumstances that might emerge, we can only inform of approximate dates.

We are the company with transparent legislation policy. At the moment KYC procedure is an essential condition for fund-raising. We value our customers reputation as well as ours, and try to respect international law when working with financial instruments.

How are you different from other projects?

Allbebet is fair betting of a new generation.

Our company mission is to make the world of sports industry transparent and fair. We make products which will correspond to our mission and will make this industry much more transparent, more profitable, faster and safer. We use Blockchain technologies and implement AI to pursue this mission.

As the main goal of first Allbebet.bet product is creating total confidence between a player and the platform, we create world first sports betting platform with total lack of regulators, third parties and false information. We also provide support of artificial intelligence for betting and analytics prediction. Used AI algorithms expand product opportunities thus solving problems described in our documents.

Platform main advantages:

- p2p bets
- team bets
- totalizator
- event prediction
- event analytics
- ratings of players
- matches preview generated by neural networks
- matches broadcasting
- product marketplace (auction)
- referral and bonus programs
- AI use
- Allbebet.wallet
- blockchain and smart-contracts.

How can I contact ALLBEBET in case I have problems with my player's account, bets, site etc.?

You can contact us at info@allbebet.io

Can I open several accounts?

No, you can't. Several accounts can't be opened for fraud prevention reasons.

I want to become an ALLBEBET customer, what do I do first?

Visit our official site, read the main rules and opportunities of the ALLBEBET project and get registered.

How can I take part in Bounty campaign of your project?

To take part in our Bounty campaign you should proceed to the relevant section of the site for clarification of all the information.

What are the purposes of fund-raising?

We launch our fund-raising campaign to develop and scale the project.

Do you intend to enter the international market?

Yes, we do. This is our primary goal. After technical segment implementation, in the third quarter, we are going to apply for a gambling license in Malta and Curacao.

Is additional ALB token emission expected in the future?

No, it isn't. Additional emission will lead to dilution of existing shares and entail undesirable risks.

What number of ALB tokens will be available during the sale stages of fund-raising?

The total number of the emitted ALB tokens is 1.000.000.000 ALB. 40.000.000 (4% from the emission) will be available for the sale on the exchange.
